What is the Fund about?

AmAsia Pacific REITs is a fund-of-funds issued by AmFunds Management Berhad (the “Manager”) that aims to provide regular income* and to a lesser extent capital appreciation over the medium to long-term by investing in real estate investment trusts.

Who is the Fund suitable for?

The Fund is suitable for investors seeking:

- investment exposure through a diversified portfolio of REITs in the Asia Pacific region. Portfolio diversification is obtained by investing in REITs of various sub-sectors (for example, residential, commercial, industrial within the REITs sector) listed in various countries; and
- potential regular income* and, to a lesser extent capital appreciation over the medium to long-term.

Notes:

* The income (if any) could be in the form of units or cash.

 Medium to long-term refers to a period of at least three (3) years.

Fund Category	Fund-of-Funds.
Fund Type	Income and Growth.
Investment Objective	The Fund aims to provide regular income* and to a lesser extent capital appreciation over the medium to long-term by investing in real estate investment trusts (REITs). Notes: Any material change to the investment objective of the Fund would require unit holders’ approval. * The income could be in the form of units or cash.
Investment Strategy	To achieve the investment objective, 85% to 98% of the Fund’s NAV will be invested in REITs listed in the Asia Pacific region. In addition to country diversification, the Fund will also diversify into different REITs sectors such as residential, commercial and industrial. The Fund will hold between 2% and 15% of its NAV in liquid assets. The Manager employs an active allocation strategy, which means the asset allocation decisions will be made after reviewing the macroeconomic trends and REITs market outlook of the respective countries in the Asia Pacific region. The Manager will be targeting REITs that have been generating regular income returns and have potential for capital growth. In evaluating the suitability of a REIT, the Manager, amongst other factors, will review the track record, investment portfolio, financial status, income distribution policy and cost factors of the REIT. In an adverse market condition, the Manager may increase its asset allocation to lower risk assets such as liquid assets to safeguard the investment of the Fund. During this period, the Fund’s investment may differ from the stipulated investment strategy. The Fund is actively managed. However, the frequency of its trading strategy will depend on investment opportunities.

What are the key risks associated with the Fund?

General risks associated with investing in a unit trust fund

Market Risk	Market risk refers to the possibility that an investment will lose value because of a general decline in financial markets, due to economic, political and/or other factors resulting in a decline in a fund’s NAV.
Inflation Risk	This is the risk that investors’ investment in a fund may not grow or generate income at a rate that keeps pace with inflation.
Manager’s Risk	This risk refers to the day-to-day management of a fund by the manager which will impact the performance of a fund.
Non-Compliance Risk	This is the risk of the manager, the investment manager or the trustee not complying with their respective internal policies, the deed and its supplemental deeds, securities law or guidelines issued by the regulators relevant to each party, which may adversely affect the performance of a fund.
Loan Financing Risk	This risk occurs when investors take a loan / financing to finance their investment. The inherent risk of investing with borrowed money includes investors being unable to service the loan repayments.
Country Risk	Investments of a fund in any countries may be affected by changes in the economic and political climate, restriction on currency repatriation or other developments in the law or regulations of the countries in which a fund invests in.

Specific risks associated with the Fund

Risks associated with Investment in REITs	Investing in REITs involves many of the same risks associated with direct ownership of real estate, including possible declines in real estate’s value, increase in interest rates and real estate borrowing costs, changes in property taxes, higher operating expenses or higher costs of environmental clean-up, damages from natural or man-made disasters, fluctuations in rent payments due to poor demand and excess supply in real estate space. In addition, some real estate companies, including REITs, utilize leverage (and some may be highly leveraged). Financial leverage or debt financing acts like a lever in the sense that using it may greatly magnify both gains and losses of the REITs. The potential magnification of gains and losses, and the consequent volatility in the net asset value of the REITs may result in the REITs exhibiting higher price volatility in the stock market, which in turn may pose a higher risk to REITs investors.
Sectoral Risk	As the Fund invests only in real estate sector, this Fund would be significantly affected by developments in this sector. Because the Fund’s investment is limited to a relatively narrow segment of the economy, the Fund’s investment may not be as diversified as other funds. Due to the sector concentration, this Fund may be more volatile than other funds and therefore its portfolio value can increase or decrease more rapidly compared to other funds.
Income Distribution Risk	The distribution of income is not guaranteed. Circumstances preventing the distribution of income include, among others, capital controls affecting investments in foreign countries, as well as unavailability of sufficient realized returns to enable income distribution (as per the SC Guidelines, distribution of income should only be made from realized gains or realized income).
Currency Risk	As the investments of the Fund may be denominated in currencies other than the base currency, any fluctuation in the exchange rate between the base currency and the currencies in which the investments are denominated may have an impact on the value of these investments. Investors should be aware that if the currencies in which the investments are denominated depreciate against the base currency, this will have an adverse effect on the NAV of the Fund in the base currency and vice versa. Investors should note that any gains or losses arising from the fluctuation in the exchange rate may further increase or decrease the returns of the investment. Note: that the Fund also offers multiple currency classes. When the base currency of the Fund depreciates against the denominated currency of the Class(es), the Class(es) will suffer currency losses. This is in addition to any gains or losses derived from the Fund’s investments.

	The Manager may at its discretion hedge the currency exposure of any of the currency Class(es) against the base currency of the Fund to mitigate currency risk for the benefit of the Class(es). Note that while hedging protects the Fund against depreciation in the base currency of the Fund against the currency of the Class(es), it also caps the Class(es) from benefiting from an appreciation in the base currency of the Fund against the currency of the Class(es).
Suspension Risk	Refers to situation where the Manager suspends dealings of units in a fund (no redemption or subscription are allowed) under exceptional circumstances as set out in the Prospectus - Temporary suspension of determination of NAV and of the issue, switching and redemption of units. Suspension of a fund may potentially result in unit holders not being able to redeem their units into cash based on their liquidity needs and their investments will continue to be subject to the risk factors inherent in the Fund.

Note: The abovementioned risks which investors should consider before investing into the Fund should not be considered to be an exhaustive list. Investors should be aware that investments in the Fund may be exposed to other unforeseeable risks from time to time. Investors are advised to consult their professional adviser. Please refer to the Prospectus under "Risk Factors" for further details on risks.

Please note that if you invest in units through a distributor via a nominee system of ownership, you will not be deemed a unit holder under the deed of the Fund.
